How to Achieve Successful Kinship Placements

• Assess safety of placement and kin caregivers ability to meet needs of the child

• Help relatives make informed decisions about how best to care for the child and what is best for the family
  o Written materials for relatives to help understand their role and options
    • Having a Voice and a Choice: New York State Handbook for Relatives Raising Children
    • Know Your Options: Relatives Caring for Children
    • Know Your Permanency Options: The Kinship Guardianship Assistance Program
      • (KinGAP)
      • Available at: https://ocfs.ny.gov/kinship/

  o Review and discuss written materials
  o Refer to NYS Kinship Navigator or attorney for assistance
How to Achieve Successful Kinship Placements

- Engage all parties in decision-making: parents, child, kin caregivers
  - Team Decision Making (Family Group Decision Making)
- Assess kin caregiver’s commitment to the child
  - Are their expectations realistic
  - Are they in it for the “long haul”
  - Do they support reunification, when safe
- Assess caregivers relationship with parents
- Best interests of the child prevails

Federal Kinship Guardianship Assistance (GAP)

- State option to use Title IV-E for eligible children who leave foster care for legal guardianship with a relative
- States must use state and local dollars to match federal dollars
- Payments available until child turns 18 (sometimes 21)
- States must use state and local dollars to match federal dollars
- Children are eligible for Medicaid
- GAP remains in effect if guardian moves to another state
- If child eligible for federal adoption assistance when placed with guardian, child continues to be eligible if guardian wants to adopt the child later
- To date: 35 states, DC and 8 tribes have approved plans
Federal GAP: Case Plan & Suggested Court Findings

• Once program is established, states must document in case plan and court should make findings on:
  o Why return home and adoption are not appropriate o The reasons for any separation of siblings o The reasons why a subsidized guardianship is in the child’s best interests o The ways in which the child meets the eligibility requirements
  o Efforts to discuss adoption with kinship caregivers and guardianship with parents
NYS KinGAP Law: Eligibility Criteria

• Soc. Serv. Law § 458-A – F: Kinship Guardianship Assistance Program
  o Must live for at least 6 consecutive months in home of prospective relative guardian; and
    • return home or adoption are not appropriate permanency options;
    • child demonstrates a strong attachment to relative;
    • relative guardian has a strong commitment to caring permanently for the child; and
    • child over 14 has been consulted; over age 18 has consented
NYS KinGAP Law: Eligibility Criteria

- Relative must fully certified or approved foster parent of child
- Relative is defined as a person who is:
  - related by blood, marriage or adoption,
  - related to a half sibling of the child in foster care or
  - has a positive relationship with the child, including, but not limited to a stepparent, godparent, neighbor, or family friend
- The fact finding hearing and 1st permanency hearing must be completed
- Kin GAP payments until child is 21, if the child qualifies (school, employed full time, etc.)

Benefits of KinGAP

• Legal relationship that does not require new role definitions and allows for the existing family relationships to continue
• Allows birth parents to remain part of the child’s life (if the child not legally freed) and allows birth parents to retain rights to visit and to consent to adoption
• Eliminates monthly caseworker visits and regularly scheduled court appearances
• Allows relative guardians to manage birth parent–child interactions without agency oversight
• Provides guardians with authority to consent to medical treatment, educational plans, and other daily decisions that typically require parental permission
  o Not allowed to consent to adoption, major surgery and marriage
• Allows the family to continue receiving Medical Assistance or other medical coverage for the child
• Increases child’s sense of family stability without requiring the termination of parental rights
• Allows children to retain rights of association with their siblings, grandparents, and other extended family members
KinGAP – Discussion Questions

• What are some of the barriers to more exits to Kin GAP?
• How does the block grant funding effect decisions to pursue Kin GAP as opposed to uncapped funding for adoption subsidy?
• Are there cases that are typically more appropriate for Kin GAP than others?
• What are the pros and cons of Kin GAP?
• Kin GAP tends to be more appropriate for:
  o children with strong bond to parents and unwilling to be adopted o kinship caregivers unable or unwilling to adopt o parents with disability that makes them unable to parent but still have a good relationship with child o Parents can’t care for child but not sufficient TPR grounds
  o Sibling groups
• Carefully assess goal of Kin GAP for any young child
Adoption – Overview

• Birth parents’ parental rights are terminated, because either:
  o the parent surrendered his/her parental rights;
  o the court terminated them or o the parent died

• Parent loses all rights and responsibilities including:
  o right to visit,
  o child support obligations
  o right to later claim custody of the child

• Decision to terminate determined on a case-by-case basis, based on best interests of the child

• The adoptive parent becomes the child’s legal parent
Adoption – Overview

• Prospective adoptive parent must be approved
  o Background checks, home study, medical exams and training

• Some relatives do not feel adoption is right for them; as they do not want to change the nature of their relationship with the child or parent

• Child over age 14 must consent to adoption

• Conditional surrenders may allow post-adoption contact between birth parents & child

• Parental rights can be restored in narrowly defined circumstances

Benefits of Adoption

• More permanent option, parent cannot petition for a change in status unless their parental rights are restored
• Right of inheritance, medical insurance all apply to adopted child
• More control over whether the biological parent can have access to the child
• Eliminates monthly caseworker visits and regularly scheduled court appearances
• Adoption subsidy in most cases
• Provides adoptive parents to consent to medical treatment, educational plans, and all decisions with regard to the child

Post Permanency Contact with Parents

• GAP order can establish visitation schedule with biological parents
• GAP agreement should name the successor guardian, who could qualify for KinGAP subsidy, if the guardian can no longer care for the child
• Post Adoption Contract Agreement
  o If rights terminated by a conditional surrender - parent voluntarily gives up their parental rights - certain conditions such as contact may be included in the order o All parties, including adoptive parent, must agree to terms of a conditional surrender o If problems arise, case can be taken back to family court for review by a judge.
    • The judge will make a decision that supports the best interests of the child
Choosing the Right Permanency Goal

- Must be decided on case by case basis, engage all stakeholders in decision
  - Include parents and children in decision
- Must give caregivers all information on permanency options from the beginning
- Assess permanency hierarchy, with reunification as first goal
- Weigh benefits for child – inheritance, education assistance
- Ultimately what is best for the child?
